FEDERAL JUDICIAL ACADEMY: PIONEERING JUDICIAL EDUCATION IN PAKISTAN

Introduction

Access to justice, right to fair trial and effectual implementation of court decisions, unequivocally fall within the category of basic fundamental rights of every human being. A well-functioning, independent, and impartial judicial system strengthens democratic values and is essential for securing socio-economic stability as it underpins rule of law, and inspires peace and security that ultimately feed into good governance and sustainable development of any country.

Efficacy in justice system calls for efficient service delivery based on competence, integrity, and independence, with a comprehensive approach. This means that the judicial sector, including judiciary, police, prosecution, and the bar must have well-trained and professionally sound functionaries at all levels. For the purpose, continued judicial education and respective professional development programs of these inter-connected sectors, therefore, become imperative.

Genesis of Judicial Education in Pakistan

The Constitution of Islamic Republic of Pakistan sets out the "Right to Fair Trial"¹ as a basic Fundamental Right of the citizenry of this country, and mandates the State to "ensure inexpensive and expeditious justice,"² and to hold "everyone equal before the law without discrimination."³ The Preamble and Article 2A of the Constitution accentuates the establishment of an order wherein principles of democracy, freedom, equality, tolerance and social justice, as enunciated by Islam, are to be fully observed and the independence of judiciary is completely secured. Put together, the main objective is to ensure that a strong system of good governance is in place whereby the fundamental rights of the people are protected, and rule of law as well as social justice prevail.

Judicial arm of the state being mandated with crucial task of ensuring access to inexpensive and speedy justice also calls for adequate financial and human resources with provision of technical trainings and capacity building measures for representatives of different tiers of judiciary on regular basis.

The Establishment

To perform efficiently, the courts need judges with highest ethical standards, extensive legal knowledge, good leadership, decision making, and administrative skills. In addition, the significance of competent and ethically groomed staff cannot be undermined. Need to set up a training institute for members of the district judiciary in particular, was therefore felt and reflected in various law reform commission reports in the past. It had been emphasised that in order to achieve required technical knowledge and skills for improving the performance of the judiciary, it was critical to set up special judicial training institution where professional training courses for the judges and court staff could be organised in their respective relevant areas.

The Federal Judicial Academy (FJA) in Islamabad, was consequently set up in 1988, under a Resolution of the Government to provide a conventional institution for conducting judicial education and trainings for the relevant judicial sector officers and staff.

In 1997, FJA was given a legal cover under the Act of Parliament.⁴ The Act regulated its functions and structure in line with its aims and objectives. It also gave the Academy an independent status.

In compliance with the Act, FJA was established in 1998, as an independent autonomous judicial education institution.⁵ Based in Islamabad, the FJA is an independent body corporate having perpetual succession and a common seal with power to acquire, hold and dispose of property both moveable and immovable.

Chapter - IV

Expeditious Justice Initiative: A Tactical Approach towards Facilitating Access to Justice in Pakistan and the Role of FJA

Introduction

Access to expeditious and fair justice is one of the basic fundamental human rights, and so it is also clearly reflected in the Constitution of Pakistan. Article 37(d) of Chapter II, Principles of Policy, mandates the State to provide 'inexpensive and expeditious justice.' Article 10(a) guarantees the 'Right to Fair Trial' as a fundamental right, and 'Equality before the law' is yet another fundamental right guaranteed by Article 25 of the Constitution. These three references from the Constitution of Pakistan unequivocally establish access to justice as the key component of the Constitution of Pakistan that call for a well-functioning, efficient and independent administration of justice.

Hon'ble Chief Justice of Pakistan, along with Hon'ble Chief Justices of all the four provincial High Courts and Islamabad High Court at the launching ceremony of the EJI.

The ceremony was held at the Federal Judicial Academy on April 13th 2019. In line with constitutional mandate of providing expeditious and inexpensive justice to the people, his lordship Mr. Justice Asif Saeed Khan Khosa, immediately upon taking his oath as the Hon'ble Chief Justice of Pakistan on January 18th 2019, decided to take some tangible strategic measures in this regard. His focus was on improving service delivery with optimum utilization of available resources within the existing legal framework. For the purpose, 'Expeditious Justice Initiative' was articulated under his direct supervision. The well thought-out proposal was placed before the National Judicial (Policy Making) Committee for discussion on 11th March 2019, and was approved by the Committee for adoption as a policy guideline on the same date.

The initiative introduces Time-Bound Criminal Trial Regime through trial management and scheduling mechanism with establishment along with establishment of Model Criminal Trial Courts (MCTC). In 2017, there had already been a successful experiment of setting up Model Courts in Punjab Province, and it was anticipated that this new initiative with its distinctive features would yield improved and rather effective results. The 'Action Document' of MCTCs is very comprehensive and includes an intensive monitoring and evaluation mechanism. The emphasis of this whole Initiative by the Hon'ble Chief Justice is to ensure working within the available resources in an articulate manner and the existing legal framework.

Initially, it is proposed that the MCTCs be established one in each district. The Time-Bound Criminal Trial Regime shall, nevertheless, be extended to all criminal trial courts in due course. The Federal Judicial Academy plans to undertake impact analysis of this Initiative through its Research and Publication Wing, after six months of successful execution of this initiative by conducting a study on criminal justice system.

Goals and Objectives

- The initiative focuses on the following goals and core objective:

Meeting of Directors General of Judicial Academies on the topic of "Imparting Judicial Education Together But Independently: Defining The Turfs" was organized at the Academy on September 11, 2018.

With Federal Judicial Academy's new approach to judicial education, developed in compliance with the directives of its Board of Governors (BoG) and the newly developed Strategic Plan (2018-21), it became pertinent to invite the Director Generals of all the four provincial academies to meet, review and deliberate on a single point, i.e., to identify any over-lapping or redundancies in courses between the federal and provincial judicial academies and to define respective turfs in the light of the discussions. The purpose was to share experiences and lessons learnt for improved judicial education mechanism, strengthen congeniality amongst the institutions, and draw parameters for effective judicial education mechanism in the country.

Deliberations during the Meeting were useful and some concrete ideas and recommendations were drawn that were agreed to be placed before the NJECC meeting for future planning.

The proceedings concluded with participants' recommitment to strengthen the judicial education in Pakistan.
